WILL OPPOSE GAS INCREASE

City Council Decides at Meeting to Prevent if Possible Announced Raise in Rates.

MAY FILE INJUNCTION SUIT

Street Committee Given Further Time on Report on Petition Asking. Eleventh Street Paving.

The city council at the regular meeting last night decided to oppose the proposed raise in gas rates by the Peoples Natural Gas company and the Central Fuel company. It was decided that the city attorney should bring injunction proceedings or take the necessary steps to prevent the charging of the increased rate until the Public Service commission had granted the right.

The two gas companies have filed their petitions asking the right to raise the rates, but the commission has not yet heard the argument. Both gas companies have notified their patrons that the raise would be effective, starting June 1. The council and the city attorney do not believe that the companies have the right to increase the rate until the commission has decided the question.

For this reason the fight will be started in the circuit court. City attorney Kiplinger will likely file the injunction suit in a few days and it is hoped to decide the question before the time for paying the June gas bills arrives. The council takes the stand on the gas question as it does because the men were elected on a platform opposed to the increase in rates and the gas companies will have a fight on their hands getting the raise through the commission.

A petition for a flagman at the Fifth street crossing of the Pennsylvania railway was presented to the council. On motion of Councilman Brann the petition was granted but was done so in a strange way. On the vote Brann and McGinnis voted to grant the petition while Wagoner and Seudder refused to vote. The city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance providing for the flagman at this crossing. The petition stated that the traffic on this street was very heavy and that a flagman was needed.

The water committee reported that the water elevator at the Mauzy store had been done away with and that the store was now running an electric elevator. The city figures that this will be a big saving in water as the elevator was supplied by a four inch main.

The street committee was given further time on the petition asking for the paving of North Perkins street from Eleventh street to the alley south of Thirteenth street. The plans for the paving of West Secon street from Beuna Vista avenue to the Pennsylvania railway were presented to the council, but were referred back to the engineer because the plans were incomplete. The engineer estimated that the street would cost $7,650 to pave with brick.

Councilman Seudder called the attention of the council to the fact that the water for street sprinkling before sweeping was being taken from the water taps in the business district and that he had numerous complaints regarding the color of the water. It was explained that this had nothing to do with it. Because of the long haul to the water and light plant to get river water it was decided to continue as had been done with the exception that when the street near

STILL DISOBEY AUTO LAW

Police Continue to Find Machines Without Light.

The police continue to find many automobiles running at night or left standing next to the curb without lighting the lights. Last night no less than eight machines were seen without a light. The law provides that both rear and front lights shall be burning one-half hour after sunset. The police have issued their last warning and arrest will follow if the law regarding the lights is not obeyed. Several machines have also been noticed without the 1914 numbers but the owners in every case gave satisfactory explanations.

PAROLE ASKED FOR WILLIAM HOPKINS

Former Carthage Man's Plea Will Come Before State Pardon Board at Quarterly Meeting

IS SERVING TERM OF 2 TO 14

A petition for the parole of William Hopkins, formerly of Carthage, who is serving a term of two to fourteen years in the state prison at Michigan City for assault and battery with intent to kill, has been filed with the state board of pardons in Indianapolis along with twenty-one other petitions. The board will begin its quarterly session, June 22. J. T. Arbuckle of this city is a member of the board.

Hopkins, who is past sixty years old, was sentenced last year after having resorted to every effort through his attorneys to escape serving a term in prison. He was convicted by a jury in the circuit court of assaulting Lee Somers, a neighbor. They had an argument over the location of a line fence between their farms. It was shown the court that Hopkins was suffering from a disease, but the court showed no leniency.

CATTLE SALE IS A DISAPPOINTMENT

Proceeds Amount to Only $10,600. Which is an Average Per Cow of $176.

PRIZE WINNERS GO CHEAP

The A. L. Winship sale of the A. P. Walker Jersey cattle yesterday was a disappointment in that the prices were not what they should have been considering the high grade of imported cattle sold. The sale totaled approximately $10,600. The highest price paid for a single animal was $700 and the average for the sixty head of cattle was only $176. The cattle included the prize winning show herd, formerly owned by Walker and it was thought that these would bring exceptionally good prices. One reason given for the poor prices is the lack of foreign cattle men attending the sale. Only a few were present from a distance. The cows all sold better than the prize bulls. The sale was concluded late yesterday afternoon.

John K. Gowdy, who has been sick at his home in North Perkins street for some time, was able to come downstairs today for the first time in seven weeks.

TO BE EVENT OF WIDE INTEREST

Address Will be Given at Fairview High School Friday Night Under Community Club Auspices.

BY MADISON COUNTY AGENT

Duties of His Office and Value to Farmers Will be Explained—Need For One Everywhere.

Under the auspices of the Fairview Community club an event of county-wide interest to farmers will be held next Friday evening. W. R. Butler, agricultural advisor of Madison county, will give an address on the office of county agent, its duties and its results. The lecture will be held in the Fairview high school building. The high school orchestra will play, admission will be free, and the entire county is invited.

The Connersville News calls attention to the fact that this will be an important event to farmers of Fayette county, and as well it is declared to be equally as important to the farmers of Rush county. The News recalls that one of the chief aims of the short course planned for Connersville last fall was the preparation of the county for an agricultural agent. The short course was spoiled by a heavy fall of snow.

With the Rush County Chamber of Commerce in good running order with a live membership, it is constantly asserted that Rush county should begin preparations for a short course next fall or winter that would be the equal of any held in any adjoining counties. A short course in Rushville would serve the same purpose to Rush county that a short course in Connersville would to Fayette. This officer, looked upon askance in the beginning, has proven so useful in counties which support him that most of the first objection has dissolved already. It is the feeling of many of the best Rush county farmers that this county ought to, and presently will have such an agent.

The agricultural agent is a kind of soil, crop and live stock doctor. His business is that of showing the farmers of his territory better methods of doing their work, conserving their soil and raising and marketing their stock and crops. The details of the work he does, and something of the results he has brought about will be given by Mr. Butler in his lecture.

It is expected that the announcement of this man's coming will appeal to farmers, and likewise to many farm owners who live in the city. It is sure that pleasant, as well as an educational evening will be provided by the Falmouth society, and it is hoped that their broad invitation will meet with a large response.

NEW DICTATOR LOOMS UP

Mexican Refugees say War Minister Will Deport Huerta.

(By United Press.)

Torreón, Mex., June 3.—Col. Perez who recently escaped from Mexico City arrived here today and brought reports that General Blanquet, the war minister, has gained almost complete control of the Huerta government. He said many Mexicans believe Blanquet will deport Huerta and make himself dictator.

BIG WEDNESDAY DUE NEXT WEEK

Merchants Are Preparing For Popular Bargain Day That Has Been so Attractive in Past.

CROWD WILL BE AMUSED, TOO

"Flying Squadrons" Are Being Organized to go Remotest Parts of County to Advertise Day.

The "flying squadrons" which were first pressed into service here a few years ago to advertise the Rush county chautauqua will be used the latter part of this week for advertising Rushville's first Big Wednesday of the season which will be held June 10 next week.

It was impossible today to ascertain whether the advertising would be ready for the "flying squadron" tomorrow, but it is certain that the automobile party will "scour" the county Friday at least. It is planned for the machines to leave about six-thirty o'clock in the morning and the remotest corners of Rush county will be visited. Fifteen automobiles have been promised and there may be more.

Merchants will soon advertise the big bargain carnival that will be the initial one of 1914 for Rushville. Practically every store in the city will offer one bargain for the day and an immense crowd of shoppers is expected in the city.

While the crowd is here, it will be amused. The Arlington band of twenty pieces has been engaged to give an afternoon and evening concert. The Big Wednesday committee has arranged for the three motion picture shows, the Princess, the Portola and the Gem to give continuous shows free to everyone all during the afternoon.

Big Wednesdays in the past in Rushville have been very popular, in fact the most popular of any bargain days tried elsewhere. Rushville has always been the mecca of people not only from this county, but from practically all adjoining counties. This year promises to be no exception.

Educational Day will be held the same day as Big Wednesday, but this is only expected to attract more interest to the day.

TWO WIVES CRY FOR THE SAME "HUBBY"

When Elmer Jones is Sentenced for Bigamy Today, Myrtle and Leona Weep Loudly

HE MAY HAVE THIRD SPOUSE

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 3.—When Elmer Jones was declared a bigamist today and sentenced to serve from two to five years in the Michigan City penitentiary, both of his wives and his sister began crying so loudly that court was interrupted. They were forced into the hall. He married Myrtle Jones first and then Leona J. Cartwright. Police say a third wife is living and not divorced. Jones admits that he has been married four times but says two wives were divorced.

Walter Gartin, northeast of the city, has received a box of fine oranges from his cousin Walter Jackson in California.

UP TO WASHINGTON AGAIN

Main Issue in Mexican Situation Must be Settled by U. S.

(By United Press.)

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 3.—Huerta has taken the position that the United States must save him from the Rebels. This was the belief here today. The main issue of the Mexican situation is up to Washington again. The administration must bring pressure to bear on Carranza to lay down his arms or deny the right of Huerta to set forth any conditions looking toward settlement.

MAYOR IS HOPE OF PROSECUTION

In Him Lies Only Chance For Case Against Dr. and Mrs. Winters and W. R. Cooper to be Pushed.

TRIES TO GET DETECTIVE BACK

(By United Press.)

Newcastle, Ind., June 3.—Mayor Watkins was believed this afternoon to be the main hope of those who desire prosecution of the charges against Dr. W. A. Winters Mrs. Winters and W. R. Cooper that they conspired to murder and burn the body of Catherine Winters. The Mayor said he found Detective Abels and would try to persuade him to return to the case. He said he would try to obtain a special prosecutor to conduct the case. It was found that politics had entered in and an attempt to discredit the prosecution had been made.

Prosecutor Myers had taken a new interest in the case this afternoon and was going over the evidence taken by the former grand jury they had investigated the Winters case.

TO HEAR PETITIONS OF GAS COMPANIES

Public Service Commission Sends Word it Will Consider Rushville Cases Next Wednesday.

THE CITY WILL ACT ANYWAY

City Attorney John H. Kiplinger received word this morning that the Public Service commission would hear the petitions of the Peoples Natural Gas company and the Central Fuel company, asking for a raise in gas rates from fifteen cents a thousand cubic feet to forty cents a thousand cubic feet, next Wednesday. This means that the commission will hear the cases at this time. The city attorney will appear before the commission representing the city. This will in no way effect the filing of the injunction suits against the gas companies as ordered by the council last night. The commission may take the cases under advisement and not return a decision before several weeks. In the meantime the gas companies, according to the notices sent out, will be charging forty cents a thousand cubic feet from June 1. In case the commission does not make a finding immediately after the hearing the injunction suits will be filed in the circuit court to stop the raise until the decision is reached.

STILL ROCKY ROAD AHEAD

Optimism Administration Keynote on Mediation Today, But It's Tempered With Apprehension.

SAYS IT'S SATISFACTORY

Bryan Admits it, But Senate Leader After Conference Says There's Much Mediation Ahead.

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 3.—Optimism over the outcome of the mediation remained the administration keynote this afternoon but it was tempered with a grave apprehension that there is still a rocky road ahead over constitutionalists participating in the Niagara Falls program.

President Wilson told callers "there is no crisis in mediation," but at the same time he admitted that there is prospects of further although not necessarily serious drawbacks to the conference. Secretary Bryan said: "Mediation is progressing satisfactorily."

A senate leader after conferring with him, however, voiced the opinion that there is still "considerable mediation ahead." This statement was based on questions as to what the outcome over the Carranza will be. The senator was not over-enthusiastic and he has held the secret of the administration constantly in his possession.

HE WILL MAKE NO COMMENT

Carranza Will Not Discuss Proposal Mediators Have Received.

(By United Press.)

Durango, Mexico., June 3.—General Carranza today refused to comment on the proposal of the Niagara Falls Mediators to permit the mediation conference to discuss the internal affairs of Mexico. Constitutionalists do not regard seriously the statement that Huerta will eliminate himself as soon as Mexico is pacified and the government of the country placed under control of a joint commission.

Reducing the Rent

Mr. Storekeeper, did you figure out that you can utilize advertising to reduce your fixed charge for rent?

How?

By the very greatly increased business it will bring you.

Just figure your advertising cost as part of the rent and figure your new percentage on the greater volume.

If it does not work out you have not given the public what they want.

The result of advertising in a good newspaper like The Daily Republican are as certain as anything can be if you have voiced your appeal properly.

Some Thoughts On Big Wednesday

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce issued the following today:

Big Wednesday is now an assured thing, and it is time to do part of our philosophizing. A man engaged in working up this enterprise learns many things that he may have known before, but only in part.

What is Big Wednesday for? Its purpose is to bring out-of-town people to town, by offering free attractions that will entertain them and give them a day of pleasure. If the attractions are good, the people will come. If they come to town, they will acquire the habit of coming to this town in preference to others. While they are in town they will spend some money. If the stores offer special bargains, they will enter more stores. When they enter a store, they will look around; and that means increased sales. The merchant was right who invented the price which calls for a cent or two change. While waiting for this, the customer will walk around; and merchants know this results in further sales.

The place of trading is a matter of habit. A mail order catalog at the right hand of the farmer will give him the habit of going to it for his purchases; and all around the picture of his purchase are the pictures of other goods, just as around your customer are the displays of other goods. Who can blame him? He only does what he would do in your store did he enter it. You can storm at him in print, but you can't teach him that way that those lower prices, if they are lower, mean cheaper and even shoddy goods. You can teach him if you have him where you can show him quality goods and talk to him. Your only defense against the habit of trading with Chicago on one hand, and Connersville and Knightstown and Greensburg on the other, is to start him in the habit of buying in Rushville. Habits can rarely be preached out of a person; others must be substituted for them.

Rushville merchants sell high quality goods. This is no shoddy town. The trade you have swears by Rushville. It is the trade you have not got that we are after. And here we are back on Big Wednesday again. There will be a big crowd of people in town that day. Take care of them!

FOLK COVERED UP EVIDENCE

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 3.—Attorney Folk produced telegrams sent from Boston to President Wilson and others when the interstate commerce commission resumed its investigation of the New Haven deal today. They charged Folk with covering up evidence that money had been given the Boston newspapers by the New Haven. One of the messages said that W. R. Hurst had "hushed" Mellen with a promise of support. Folk declared heatedly that attempts had been made to locate the author. James Elton, New Haven director, took the stand. He said the directors' meetings were conducted so fast he "couldn't keep up."

Some Straws.

Below read two dispatches taken from the Indianapolis News. They are self explanatory. Comment is unnecessary:

Anderson, Ind., May 30.—James O. Lee, a banker of Frankton, has withdrawn as the nominee for clerk on the Madison county progressive ticket. In an open letter which he sent to the county chairman, W. T. Richards, Mr. Lee says:

"Inclosed you will find attached my resignation as a candidate for clerk on the progressive ticket. I wish to thank my many friends for their good wishes, but at this time I do not think it prudent to enter a campaign where there is no possible chance for election. I am still of the opinion that in Madison county we should lay aside out petty differences and get together on a ticket which, in my opinion, we could elect."

Brazil, Ind., May 30.—Oscar Pyrah and John Finley, precinct committeemen of the progressive party in Brazil township, have tendered their resignations to Chairman James W. Hunter, and announce their return to the republican party. Mr. Pyrah is a coal operator, and a man of considerable influence politically. Mr. Pyrah declares that the progressive and republican ideas on the tariff are practically the same, and the minor points of difference in the platforms of the two parties are not enough to cause him to continue as a progressive.

Times are better for the tramps at least. Not many people have wood to saw anymore.

Let any man letter a sign and a score of people will stop to watch—and half of them will have a suggestion to make, too.

Folks still wonder when their family will begin holding reunions.

Boys Still Grow.

Boys will grow. When Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kitchen moved to marion about a year ago, their little son Manson could not see on top of the mantle at the home of his grandfather, Ed. Flechart. A short while ago he was back on a visit. He marvelled at the fact that he could see on top the mantel then.

"Grandpa," he said, "You've sawed this mantle off, haven't you?"

This is a strange week. There wasn't a single holiday for the bank clerks.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to wear trousers with the pockets at the top instead of at the sides and who used to have to lift his vest every time he wanted a chew of plug?

Cheaper money, said a newspaper recently, is the great need of the western farmer thus placing the western farmer in our class.

There's a Moral to This.

Last night Frank Wallace the photographer, took a sample tin box of salve for medicinal use at a local drug store and at the same time purchased some cathartics that were extra large. He stuffed both packages down in the same pocket and went home. He didn't light the light at home, but fumbled around in his pocket until he found what he thought was one of the cathartics and swallowed it. This morning Mr. Wallace found he had taken the tin box salve and all.

FIRES ROB SOIL OF MATERIALS

Department of Agriculture Warns Against Burning off Woodlands Saying it is Harmful

DESTROYS THE FERTILITY

Shipping of Eggs by Parcels Post Have Proven a Success According to Report Made

Washington, June 3.—Warnings to farmers against burning off Woodlands, or "logged off" lands are being sent broadcast by the Department of Agriculture. It is stated that after careful and widespread experiments by the Forest Service, it is now demonstrated that in burning off lands the valuable "humus" is destroyed.

The fires rob the soil of this crop-producing element, it is asserted. Where fire has not entered, a large amount of vegetable matter, providing considerable fertility, and good soil texture is retained.

"How to Fight Dandelions" is the topic of a government booklet just issued, coming to the rescue of the spring lawn mower brigade. Three remedies are suggested by the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Department of Agriculture.

One remedy suggested is to weed the stand of grass, so as to crowd out Mr. Dandelion. If this doesn't work, cut out the dandelion tops and sprinkle salt on the exposed roots. Then if the weed doesn't succumb, the only sure remedy is to spade up the ground and start afresh.

Spraying dandelions with iron sulphate is disapproved. The iron kills the grass as well as the dandelions. Cutting off the tops only aggravates the plant, it is said unless the roots are poisoned. After cutting, the roots grow deeper, thicker and harder. Spring is the time to choke off the dandelion crop. In some countries the dandelions are a valuable truck crop, the Department declares.

"Housewives, stop using salicylic acid in your preserves," says a warning from the Department of Agriculture. Because of the alarming increase in the use of this acid the department sent out an urgent warning. "It is true," says the department, "that these powders may prevent the decay of fruit or vegetables, but they also encourage uncleanly or careless work, and their excessive use may be attended with serious effects upon the health."

"Salicylic acid is a medicine and it is well known as a poisonous substance, and one of the evils which may accompany its use is derangement of the digestion. It is therefore plain that its extensive use in food may lead disturbances of digestion and health."

The shipping of eggs, hams little neck clams and maple syrup by parcels post is a success. Records received daily by the Department of Agriculture and the United States postoffice show that farmers in the eastern states especially are shipping farm products to hundreds of patrons in nearby cities. Centered about Washington alone there are 174 farmers who are selling by parcels post. One of them living in Quinby, Va., offered little neck clams in 100 lots and sold 900 to employees in the local postoffice the first day.

The plans for shipping are simple. Any customer desiring goods from a farmer mails him a basket and a letter ordering the goods. The farmer fills the order hands the basket to the postman and the goods are delivered. Albert G. Drane, one parcel post patron has been purchasing eggs for nine months by parcel post. He orders 4 dozen at a time. During the nine months the same corrugated pasteboard box and only one egg was broken, and that was when the box finally wore out.

Three Departments of the federal government have just ruled that all packages of food must tell the truth, on their wrappers, of the amount or volume of their contents. By signing the "net weight law" the Secretaries of Agriculture, Commerce and Treasury have put into effect stringent regulations respecting the packing and bottling of food stuffs.

The regulations require that the quantity stated on the container must represent the actual quantity of food exclusive of wrappings and container. Under this requirement it would not be enough to state that a package of candy contained 24 cream peppermints, as candies vary in size and this would not be a statement of the actual quantity in the package. In general solids must be stated in terms of weight and liquids in terms of volume.

The new rule is so worded, too, that queer-shaped bottles must not show discrepancies greater than those of standard square or round bottles of the same capacity. Packages weighing 2 ounces or bottles containing less than one fluid ounce are exempt from the regulations.

NOMINEE FOR CLERK SENDS RESIGNATION

James O. Lee, on Whom Nomination Was "Wished" by Madison County Progressives, Declines.

NO CHANCE FOR ELECTION

(Special to the Daily Republican) Anderson, Ind., June 2.—James O. Lee, on whom the Progressive nomination for clerk of Madison county was "wished" today sent the following letter to the chairman of the Progressive organization:

"My Dear Sir: Enclosed you will find attached my resignation as a candidate for clerk on the Progressive ticket. I wish to thank my many friends for their good wishes but at this time I do not think it is prudent to enter into a campaign where there is no possible chance for an election. I am still of the opinion that in Madison county we should lay aside our petty differences and get together on a ticket which in my opinion we could elect. Again thanking you and the progressives of Madison county, I am with best wishes,

"Very Truly,
"JAMES O. LEE."

Charles S. Deneen, former Governor of Illinois, will be the principal speaker at the Madison county Republican convention to be held here next Saturday. The Republicans of Madison, are "up on their toes" determined to return the county to the Republican column in November.

TURKISH TOWEL IS TRUCE FLAG

Used For This Purpose at End of Railway Leading From Vera Cruz Inside of Lines.

KNOWN AS "LIBERTY PATH"

Two Trips are Made Daily to Get American Refugees—Train Carries Wireless.

(By U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
(BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.)

Vera Cruz, May 7.—(By Mail to New York.)—"Liberty Path," they call it now. It is a stretch of railroad track two and a half miles long; that is, it was railroad track until the Mexicans tore up the track and the ties, leaving only the grading. It runs through a swamp and into a tropical forest. Two trains, under Lieutenant Richardson, of the 19th infantry run every day from Vera Cruz out to the end of the gap in the rails to carry American and other refugees from Mexico into the American lines at Vera Cruz.

It's an interesting process. The American train consists of a Pullman car, with four or five cars filled with American sharpshooters, for, under a flag of truce the train runs a distance of two miles into the Mexican lines. One of the cars is fitted with wireless apparatus. As you pass out of the American lines you see the outpost American pickets, in the sandhills some distance from the railroad tracks. The train runs along for a mile or so, and you first notice you are inside the Mexican lines when you sight Mexican soldiers standing alongside the track. Finally the train comes to a stop within a few feet of the gap in the rails. Lieutenant Richardson alights with a soldier who carries a huge Turkish towel, tied in flag fashion to a piece of bamboo. This is the flag of truce. It will be a historic old bit of flag some day, this white Turkish towel, for under its heavy folds no less than 1,000 Americans including O'Shaughnessy himself have completed the last stage of their flight from Mexico City. Americans at the Mexican end of the gap, two and a half miles away, have spotted its whiteness through their glasses and, knowing that it was in the hands of American soldiers, have felt the fears and alarms of many weeks fall away from them; the red, white and blue, itself, could not have cheered them more than their first glimpse of the white Turkish towel. By the way, the towel was taken away from a man who, in the first day's fighting at Vera Cruz, broke open a box in the custom house, seeking loot, and tried to get away with a huge bath room accessory.

Lieutenant Richardson and the soldier carrying the flag of truce start up the railroad grading and walk a third of a mile to where a wooden shanty stands beside the track, guarded by a Mexican sentinel. A Mexican soldier comes out of the shack with another white flag. The Mexican flag of truce appears to have been made out of a bed sheet. Behind Lieutenant Richardson, Mexicans, loaded down with their personal belongings, struggle. They are fugitives from Vera Cruz.

Perhaps among the Mexicans there will be an adventuresome foreigner or two who wants to get back to the capital. The horde of travelers pass the two white flags and, the moment they pass the Mexican flag of truce, they are in the hands of the Mexicans. All of the railroad telegraph lines have been cut and so there is no way of knowing whether there is a Mexican train at the other end of the gap. The only thing to do is to wait. If it is there, it is at a standstill in the heart of a tropical, mosquito-infested forest; there may be Americans on it, though Lieutenant Richardson has no way of knowing, and the only thing he can do is to wait.

With a field glass, you can look over the heads of the Mexicans, to the pathway through the forest. If the Mexican train is there, you couldn't see it anyhow, for it stops at a curve, out of sight, at the top of a grade. The heat rising from the hot rails shimmer and makes it difficult to see what is happening at the distant end of the gap. But suddenly someone makes out a group of persons, like tiny dots; soon you can see the dust they are stirring, as they move along the road bed. They have a long hot walk before them; two and a half miles, in a broiling sun, loaded down with as many of their belongings as they can carry; they have deserted their homes and farms and mines in Mexico and what they're struggling under now is all they have to show, just at present, for their toil in Mexico.

In the meantime, while the refugees are tramping toward the train, the soldiers on the American train are taking all the precautions necessary in warfare. They are in the enemy's country under a flag of truce. Mexican soldiers are hidden in hills roundabout; an ambuscade is a thing a soldier must watch for. They sweep the place with their glasses. Sharpshooters hold their rifles ready. "Suppose the Mexicans should jump on you. What could forty of you do?" you ask a soldier. "See that wireless?" says the sharpshooter, pointing to the rigging on top of a car. "We could soon get help."

You go into the car and see the sharpshooters with a wireless kit spread out on a seat before them. All the way out from Vera Cruz, while the train was moving, they were talking with signal headquarters in Vera Cruz. Now they're doing the same thing. The moment a Mexican shot is fired, Vera Cruz would know it and, within 20 minutes a big train load of American soldiers would be on the spot. Soon the refugees near the train. You want to run out to meet and help them. "Stand back," shouts Richardson. "You can't go beyond that flag of truce." And so you watch the exhausted pilgrims finish the end of their hot long hike, but no matter how tired their faces are, you see their faces light up with smiles of delight as they step under the folds of the flag of truce—a Turkish bath towel.

WILL GIVE CABARET MINSTREL JUNE 25

Kappa Alpha Phi and Psi Iota Xi Are Practicing For Home Talent Event That Will be New.

FORTY INCLUDED IN CAST

Something new in the minstrel line will be introduced in this city, Thursday evening, June 25, when the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity, assisted by the Psi Iota Xi sorority, will give a Cabaret minstrel show. The two local societies have been practicing hard for the last few weeks to make the minstrel a "Broadway Success."

Some of the best home talent artists will take part and a novel idea has been developed in staging it. Instead of having the old fashion semi-circle of black face make-ups, the show will be new and up-to-date. The interior is in a fashionable cafe or cabaret. The waiters are black face and will act as the end men. The floor walker takes the part of the interloper. Patrons of the cabaret come and go and amusement is afforded by the conversation and songs. The cabaret orchestra furnishes the music.

Forty are included in the cast. Popular choruses are introduced throughout the evening and many parodies are given on the popular ragtime. Miss Martha Marr Hogsett has charge of the musical numbers and Denning Havens the dramatic part.

The play was intended to be given July 2, but was changed to Thursday evening June 25, and will be given in the Coliseum in the city park.

Don't overlook to pay your telephone toll before June 12 if you wish to avoid paying 15 cents extra for collection. No notice will be given by telephone. M. V. SPIVEY, Secretary.

The treasurer's report for the month of May was read and ordered referred to the finance committee. The preliminary assessment role of the East Seventh street side-walk improvement was read for the first time. The total cost was $377.55. The question was left over until Thursday night.

It was decided that anyone wanting hose for flushing out a sewer should pay $5 and the work be done under the supervision of someone connected with the fire department. The city clerk and chief of the fire department were empowered to purchase one-half dozen pairs of boots for the fire department.

It was decided to request the Public Service commission to send an expert accountant here to see just what the water and light plant needs in the way of books to conform with the rules of the commission. It is believed that the city will save a great amount of money in new books by doing this.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Let nothing prevent you from seeing these new idea, pinless, buttonless baby garments demonstrated in our infant's department. Blood poisoning comes from pin scratches. Bruises and even carbuncles are caused by hard buttons. Vanta Garments have a neat, handy little tape fastening, made of the famous Vanta Twistless Tape instead of dangerous pins and buttons. This new tape is different than any you ever saw. It's woven so it can't get hard or stringy, curl up or kink in the wash. The fastening is made a permanent part of the garment—guaranteed never to pull off. It's far easier—far quicker to handle than pins and buttons—and never gets lost or needs replacing. See Vanta Baby Garments with these new fastenings. WASHINGTON IS USING PRESSURE

Administration Today Redoubles
Efforts to Cause Constitutiona-lists to Accept Offer

HUERTA PLAN MAY HAVE WAY

But it Seems Improbable in Light of Statement from Carranza Head in Washington

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 3.—Administration officials redoubled their efforts to influence the Constitutionalists today to accept the proposal of the mediators. Re-establishment of peace in Mexico is up to Carranza. This was the position taken here. Huerta's agreement to retire paved the way, it is believed, to a solution acceptable to Carranza.

But in the light of the following statement issued last night by the Constitutionalists agency here when notified that the Mexican delegates at Niagara Falls had announced the willingness of General Huerta to resign once Mexico is politically pacified, it does not seem very probable.

"Anything coming from Huerta's side will not be taken into consideration. This is simply another trick on the part of Huerta," said Luis Cabera, who is regarded as the personal mouthpiece of Carranza in Washington. "The dictator is eager for any subterfuge which would delay his dethronement. The Constitutionalists will not deal with Huerta in any manner. One of the fundamental demands of the Constitutionalists in the expulsion of Huerta from the dictatorship, and with this object in view we are pursuing our victorious campaign."

Officials of the American government declined to comment upon the news. Secretary Bryan said the statement of the Huerta delegates was "very interesting," but would not discuss it further.

Ammunition for the Constitutionalists of Mexico left American shores from New York Tuesday, bound for Tampico.

Information that the steamer Antilla, which recently was fired upon by Constitutionalists outside Tampico, had left New York with munitions of war created considerable stir in Washington. The vessel was cleared without interference on the part of the United States, greatly to the surprise of Secretary of State Bryan and other department officials.

Subsequently it was discovered that an order to prevent clearance of such vessels had been delayed, and that the Antilla had procured clearance while the Washington government believed steps effectually had been taken to prevent her sailing.

What may happen by the time the Antilla, sailing under the Cuban flag, reaches the Constitutionalist-controlled port at Tampico was the absorbing topic of interest in official quarters. Up to the present Tampico has been regarded as an open port.

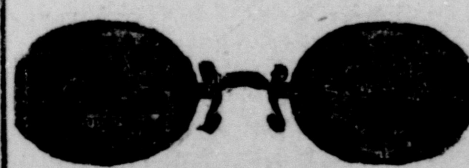

The United States, however, has sought to maintain an embargo upon arms to Mexico across the border.

Appropriate Habiliment FOR SUMMER

It's worthy, interesting, charming, our showing of beautiful waists and blouses—an exploitation of 1914 styles too pleasing to miss. In matters of taste first impressions are best. One "learns to like" things for style's sake, sometimes, but what one likes at sight usually proves a lasting satisfaction. Our blouses this season are winning high regard not only for semi-dress, but for afternoon or evening wear. To be appropriately and neatly clad, choose liberally from our large assortment of dainty and sheer wash waists or the more ornate silk, lace or chiffon blouses. As a soloist utterly fails without a good accompanist, so does a beautiful blouse fail to show its worth unless supplemented by a neatly tailored skirt. The pre-shrunk wash skirts, made in the Woolltex factory are receiving the attention that they merit. There are many models, and a wide range of materials and prices. Don't neglect seeing them at your first opportunity.

Auto Accessories

You might as well be without a spark plug, as to be without a suitable coat for protecting your clothes when auto driving. We are showing several styles, and cannot fail to interest you. WILL OPPOSE GAS INCREASE

City Council Decides at Meeting to Prevent if Possible Announced
Raise in Rates.

MAY FILE INJUNCTION SUIT

Street Committee Given Further Time
on Report on Petition Asking.
Eleventh Street Paving.

The city council at the regular meeting last night decided to oppose the proposed raise in gas rates by the Peoples Natural Gas company and the Central Fuel company. It was decided that the city attorney should bring injunction proceedings or take the necessary steps to prevent the charging of the increased rate until the Public Service commission had granted the right.

The two gas companies have filed their petitions asking the right to raise the rates, but the commission has not yet heard the argument. Both gas companies have notified their patrons that the raise would be effective, starting June 1. The council and the city attorney do not believe that the companies have the right to increase the rate until the commission has decided the question.

For this reason the fight will be started in the circuit court. City attorney Kiplinger will likely file the injunction suit in a few days and it is hoped to decide the question before the time for paying the June gas bills arrives. The council takes the stand on the gas question as it does because the men were elected on a platform opposed to the increase in rates and the gas companies will have a fight on their hands getting the raise through the commission.

A petition for a flagman at the Fifth street crossing of the Pennsylvania railway was presented to the council. On motion of Councilman Braum the petition was granted but was done so in a strange way. On the vote Braum and McGinnis voted to grant the petition while Wagener and Scudder refused to vote. The city attorney was instructed to draw up an ordinance providing for the flagman at this crossing. The petition stated that the traffic on this street was very heavy and that a flagman was needed.

The water committee reported that the water elevator at the Manzy store had been done away with and that the store was now running an electric elevator. The city figures that this will be a big saving in water as the elevator was supplied by a four inch main.

The street committee was given further time on the petition asking for the paving of North Perkins street from Eleventh street to the alley south of Thirteenth street. The plans for the paving of West Second street from Beuna Vista avenue to the Pennsylvania railway were presented to the council, but were referred back to the engineer because the plans were incomplete. The engineer estimated that the street would cost $7,650 to pave with brick.

Councilman Scudder called the attention of the council to the fact that the water for street sprinkling before sweeping was being taken from the water taps in the business district and that he had numerous complaints regarding the color of the water. It was explained that this had nothing to do with it. Because of the long haul to the water and light plant to get river water it was decided to continue as had been done with the exception that when the street near

Former Carthage Man's Plea Will Come Before State Pardon
Board at Quarterly Meeting

IS SERVING TERM OF 2 TO 14

A petition for the parole of William Hopkins, formerly of Carthage, who is serving a term of two to fourteen years in the state prison at Michigan City for assault and battery with intent to kill, has been filed with the state board of pardons in Indianapolis along with twenty-one other petitions. The board will begin its quarterly session, June 22. J. T. Arbuckle of this city is a member of the board.

Hopkins, who is past sixty years old, was sentenced last year after having resorted to every effort through his attorneys to escape serving a term in prison. He was convicted by a jury in the circuit court of assaulting Lee Somers, a neighbor. They had an argument over the location of a line fence between their farms. It was shown the court that Hopkins was suffering from a disease, but the court showed no leniency.

CATTLE SALE IS A DISAPPOINTMENT

Proceeds Amount to Only $10,600.
Which is an Average Per Cow of $176.

The A. L. Winship sale of the A. P. Walker Jersey cattle yesterday was a disappointment in that the prices were not what they should have been considering the high grade of imported cattle sold. The sale totaled approximately $10,600. The highest price paid for a single animal was $700 and the average for the sixty head of cattle was only $176.

The cattle included the prize winning show herd, formerly owned by Walker and it was thought that these would bring exceptionally good prices. One reason given for the poor prices is the lack of foreign cattle men attending the sale. Only a few were present from a distance. The cows all sold better than the prize bulls. The sale was concluded late yesterday afternoon.

John K. Gowdy, who has been sick at his home in North Perkins street for some time, was able to come downstairs today for the first time in seven weeks.

TO BE EVENT OF WIDE INTEREST

Address Will be Given at Fairview
High School Friday Night Under Community Club Auspices.

BY MADISON COUNTY AGENT

Duties of His Office and Value to Farmers Will be Explained—Need
For One Everywhere.

Under the auspices of the Fairview Community club an event of county-wide interest to farmers will be held next Friday evening. W. R. Butler, agricultural advisor of Madison county, will give an address on the office of county agent, its duties and its results. The lecture will be held in the Fairview high school building. The high school orchestra will play, admission will be free, and the entire county is invited.

The Connersville News calls attention to the fact that this will be an important event to farmers of Fayette county, and as well it is declared to be equally as important to the farmers of Rush county. The News recalls that one of the chief aims of the short course planned for Connersville last fall was the preparation of the county for an agricultural agent. The short course was spoiled by a heavy fall of snow.

With the Rush County Chamber of Commerce in good running order with a live membership, it is constantly asserted that Rush county should begin preparations for a short course next fall or winter that would be the equal of any held in any adjoining counties. A short course in Rushville would serve the same purpose to Rush county that a short course in Connersville would to Fayette.

This officer, looked upon as a success in the beginning, has proven so useful in counties which support him that most of the first objection has dissolved already. It is the feeling of many of the best Rush county farmers that this county ought to, and presently will have such an agent.

The agricultural agent is a kind of soil, crop and live stock doctor. His business is that of showing the farmers of his territory better methods of doing their work, conserving their soil and raising and marketing their stock and crops. The details of the work he does, and something of the results he has brought about will be given by Mr. Butler in his lecture.

It is expected that the announcement of this man's coming will appeal to farmers, and likewise to many farm owners who live in the city. It is sure that pleasant, as well as an educational evening will be provided by the Falmouth society, and it is hoped that their broad invitation will meet with a large response.

NEW DICTATOR LOOMS UP

Mexican Refugees say War Minister
Will Deport Huerta.

(By United Press.)

BIG WEDNESDAY DUE NEXT WEEK

Merchants Are Preparing For Popular Bargain Day That Has Been so Attractive in Past.

CROWD WILL BE AMUSED, TOO

"Flying Squadrons" Are Being Organized to go Remotest Parts of County to Advertise Day.

The "flying squadrons" which were first pressed into service here a few years ago to advertise the Rush county chautauqua will be used the latter part of this week for advertising Rushville's first Big Wednesday of the season which will be held June 10 next week.

It was impossible today to ascertain whether the advertising would be ready for the "flying squadron" tomorrow, but it is certain that the automobile party will "secur" the county Friday at least. It is planned for the machines to leave about six-thirty o'clock in the morning and the remotest corners of Rush county will be visited. Fifteen automobiles have been promised and there may be more.

Merchants will soon advertise the big bargain carnival that will be the initial one of 1914 for Rushville. Practically every store in the city will offer one bargain for the day and an immense crowd of shoppers is expected in the city.

While the crowd is here, it will be amused. The Arlington band of twenty pieces has been engaged to give an afternoon and evening concert. The Big Wednesday committee has arranged for the three motion picture shows, the Princess, the Portola and the Gem to give continuous shows free to everyone all during the afternoon.

Big Wednesdays in the past in Rushville have been very popular, in fact the most popular of any bargain days tried elsewhere. Rushville has always been the mecca of people not only from this county, but from practically all adjoining counties. This year promises to be no exception.

Educational Day will be held the same day as Big Wednesday, but this is only expected to attract more interest to the day.

They were forced into the hall. He married Myrtle Jones first and then Leona J. Cartwright. Police say a third wife is living and not divorced. UP TO WASHINGTON AGAIN

Main Issue in Mexican Situation
Must be Settled by U. S.

(By United Press.)
Niagara Falls, Ont., June 3.—Huerta has taken the position that the United States must save him from the Rebels. This was the belief here today. The main issue of the Mexican situation is up to Washington again. The administration must bring pressure to bear on Carranza to lay down his arms or deny the right of Huerta to set forth any conditions looking toward settlement.

MAYOR IS HOPE OF PROSECUTION

In Him Lies Only Chance For Case Against Dr. and Mrs. Winters and W. R. Cooper to be Pushed.

TRIES TO GET DETECTIVE BACK

(By United Press.)
Newcastle, Ind., June 3.—Mayor Watkins was believed this afternoon to be the main hope of those who desire prosecution of the charges against Dr. W. A. Winters Mrs. Winters and W. R. Cooper that they conspired to murder and burn the body of Catherine Winters. The Mayor said he found Detective Ahels and would try to persuade him to return to the case. He said he would try to obtain a special prosecutor to conduct the case. It was found that politics had entered in and an attempt to discredit the prosecution had been made.

Prosecutor Myers had taken a new interest in the case this afternoon and was going over the evidence taken by the former grand jury they had investigated the Winters case.

TO HEAR PETITIONS OF GAS COMPANIES

Public Service Commission Sends
Word it Will Consider Rushville
Cases Next Wednesday.

THE CITY WILL ACT ANYWAY

City Attorney John H. Kiplinger received word this morning that the Public Service commission would hear the petitions of the Peoples Natural Gas company and the Central Fuel company, asking for a raise in gas rates from fifteen cents a thousand cubic feet to forty cents a thousand cubic feet, next Wednesday. This means that the commission will hear the cases at this time. The city attorney will appear before the commission representing the city.

This will in no way effect the filing of the injunction suits against the gas companies as ordered by the council last night. The commission may take the cases under advisement and not return a decision before several weeks. In the meantime the gas companies, according to the notices sent out, will be charging forty cents a thousand cubic feet from June 1. In case the commission does not make a finding immediately after the hearing the injunction suits will be filed in the circuit court to stop the raise until the decision is reached.

STILL ROCKY ROAD AHEAD

Optimism Administration Keynote on Mediation Today, But It's Tempered With Apprehension.

SAYS IT'S SATISFACTORY

Bryan Admits It, But Senate Leader
After Conference Says There's Much Mediation Ahead.

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 3.—Optimism over the outcome of the mediation remained the administration keynote this afternoon but it was tempered with a grave apprehension that there is still a rocky road ahead over constitutionalists participating in the Niagara Falls program.

President Wilson told callers "there is no crisis in mediation," but at the same time he admitted that there is prospects of further although not necessarily serious drawbacks to the conference. Secretary Bryan said: "Mediation is progressing satisfactorily."

A senate leader after conferring with him, however, voiced the opinion that there is still "considerable mediation ahead." This statement was based on questions as to what the outcome over the Carranza will be. The senator was not over-enthusiastic and he has held the secret of the administration constantly in his possession.

HE WILL MAKE NO COMMENT

Carranza Will Not Discuss Proposal
Mediators Have Received.

(By United Press.)

Durango, Mexico, June 3.—General Carranza today refused to comment on the proposal of the Niagara Falls Mediators to permit the mediation conference to discuss the internal affairs of Mexico. Constitutionalists do not regard seriously the statement that Huerta will eliminate himself as soon as Mexico is pacified and the government of the country placed under control of a joint commission.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 3.—Doctors said today that there was no change in the condition of Joe Dawson, daring race driver who was injured in the Speedway event Saturday. His life hangs by a thread.

Reducing the Rent

Mr. Storekeeper, did you figure out that you can utilize advertising to reduce your fixed charge for rent?

How?

By the very greatly increased business it will bring you.

Just figure your advertising cost as part of the rent and figure your new percentage on the greater volume.

If it does not work out you have not given the public what they want.

The result of advertising in a good newspaper like The Daily Republican are as certain as anything can be if you have voiced your appeal properly.

Why Not Pay More? For Sherwin-Williams Paint Than For Some Others

- REASON No. 1—Because there is 20% more pigment in a gallon can and pigment costs more than oil.
 - REASON No. 2—Because the formula is on the can; you get just what you pay for—an honest paint.
 - REASON No. 3—There is no coal oil or cheap mineral oil in it.
 - REASON No. 4—It has stood the test for 60 years and more calls than any 3 mixed paint on the market.
- Why, there must be a reason. Come in, let us talk paint to you.

We have large, roomy buggies that are low down and easy to get in and out of and then we have them for the young folks (we don't mean baby carriages) and middle aged people. In fact, we have buggies to meet every requirement of all kinds of buggy users. You take no chances when you buy from us because we guarantee every buggy we sell and guarantee it an honest one, and one that is always good. We believe that an honest guarantee gives us the good will of our customers and when a merchant loses the good will of his customers he is flirting with the commercial undertaker. FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well-known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Some Thoughts On Big Wednesday

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce issued the following today:

Big Wednesday is now an assured thing, and it is time to do part of our philosophizing. A man engaged in working up this enterprise learns many things that he may have known before, but only in part.

What is Big Wednesday for? Its purpose is to bring out-of-town people to town, by offering free attractions that will entertain them and give them a day of pleasure. If the attractions are good, the people will come. If they come to town, they will acquire the habit of coming to this town in preference to others. While they are in town they will spend some money. If the stores offer special bargains, they will enter more stores. When they enter a store, they will look around; and that means increased sales. The merchant was right who invented the price which calls for a cent or two change. While waiting for this, the customer will walk around; and merchants know this results in further sales.

The place of trading is a matter of habit. A mail order catalog at the right hand of the farmer will give him the habit of going to it for his purchases; and all around the picture of his purchase are the pictures of other goods, just as around your customer are the displays of other goods. Who can blame him? He only does what he would do in your store did he enter it. You can storm at him in print, but you can't teach him that way that those lower prices, if they are lower, mean cheaper and even shoddy goods. You can teach him if you have him where you can show him quality goods and talk to him. Your only defense against the habit of trading with Chicago on one hand, and Connersville and Knightstown and Greensburg on the other, is to start him in the habit of buying in Rushville. Halfjs can rarely be preached out of a person; others must be substituted for them.

Rushville merchants sell high quality goods. This is no shoddy town. The trade you have sweats by Rushville. It is the trade you have not got that we are after. And here we are back on Big Wednesday again. There will be a big crowd of people in town that day. Take care of them!

—L. H. Curry of Greenfield was the guest of friends in this city today.

—J. H. Remington of Greenfield was the guest of friends in this city last evening.

—Wm. S. McClelland of Richmond was in this city last evening visiting among friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Clark of Shelbyville were the guests of friends in this city over last night.

FOLK COVERED UP EVIDENCE

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 3.—Attorney Folk produced telegrams sent from Boston to President Wilson and others when the interstate commerce commission resumed its investigation of the New Haven deal today. They charged Folk with covering up evidence that money had been given the Boston newspapers by the New Haven. One of the messages said that W. R. Hurst had "hushed" Mellen with a promise of support. Folk declared heatedly that attempts had been made to locate the author, James Elton, New Haven director, took the stand. He said the directors' meetings were conducted so fast he "couldn't keep up."

TURKISH TOWEL IS TRUCE FLAG

Used For This Purpose at End of Railway Leading From Vera Cruz Inside of Lines.

KNOWN AS "LIBERTY PATH"

Two Trips are Made Daily to Get American Refugees—Train Carries Wireless.

(By U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

(BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD.)

Vera Cruz, May 7.—(By Mail to New York.)—"Liberty Path," they call it now. It is a stretch of railroad track two and a half miles long; that is, it was railroad track until the Mexicans tore up the track and the ties, leaving only the grading. It runs through a swamp and into a tropical forest. Two trains, under Lieutenant Richardson, of the 19th infantry run every day from Vera Cruz out to the end of the gap in the rails to carry American and other refugees from Mexico into the American lines at Vera Cruz.

It's an interesting process. The American train consists of a Pullman car, with four or five cars filled with American sharpshooters. For, under a flag of truce the train runs a distance of two miles into the Mexican lines. One of the cars is fitted with wireless apparatus. As you pass out of the American lines you see the outpost American pickets, in the sandhills some distance from the railroad tracks. The train runs along for a mile or so, and you first notice you are inside the Mexican lines when you sight Mexican soldiers standing alongside the track. Finally the train comes to a stop within a few feet of the gap in the rails. Lieutenant Richardson alights with a soldier who carries a huge Turkish towel, tied in flag fashion to a piece of bamboo. This is the flag of truce. It will be a historic old bit of flag some day, this white Turkish towel, for under its heavy folds no less than 1,000 Americans including O'Shaughnessy himself have completed the last stage of their flight from Mexico City. Americans at the Mexican end of the gap, two and a half miles away, have spotted its whiteness through their glasses and, knowing that it was in the hands of American soldiers, have felt the fears and alarms of many weeks fall away from them; the red, white and blue, itself, could not have cheered them more than their first glimpse of the white Turkish towel. By the way, the towel was taken away from a man who, in the first day's fighting at Vera Cruz, broke open a box in the custom house, seeking loot, and tried to get away with a huge bath room accessory.

Lieutenant Richardson and the soldier carrying the flag of truce start up the railroad grading and walk a third of a mile to where a wooden shanty stands beside the track, guarded by a Mexican sentinel. A Mexican soldier comes out of the shack with another white flag. The Mexican flag of truce appears to have been made out of a bed sheet. Behind Lieutenant Richardson, Mexicans, loaded down with their personal belongings, struggle. They are fugitives from Vera Cruz.

Perhaps among the Mexicans there will be an adventuresome foreigner or two who wants to get back to the capital. The horde of travelers pass the two white flags and the moment they pass the Mexican flag of truce, they are in the hands of the Mexicans. All of the railroad telegraph lines have been cut and so there is no way of knowing whether there is a Mexican train at the other end of the gap. The only thing to do is to wait. If it is there, it is at a standstill in the heart of a tropical, mosquito-infested forest; there may be Americans on it, though Lieutenant Richardson has no way of knowing, and the only thing he can do is to wait.

With a field glass, you can look over the heads of the Mexicans, to the pathway through the forest. If the Mexican train is there, you couldn't see it anyhow, for it stops at a curve, out of sight, at the top of a grade. The heat rising from the hot rails shimmer and makes it difficult to see what is happening at the distant end of the gap. But suddenly someone makes out a group of persons, like tiny dots; soon you can see the dust they are stirring, as they move along the road bed. They have a long hot walk before them; two and a half miles, in a broiling sun, loaded down with as many of their belongings as they can carry; they have deserted their homes and farms and mines in Mexico and what they're struggling under now is all they have to show, just at present, for their toil in Mexico.

In the meantime, while the refugees are tramping toward the train, the soldiers on the American train are taking all the precautions necessary in warfare. They are in the enemy's country under a flag of truce. Mexican soldiers are hidden in hills roundabout; an ambuscade is a thing a soldier must watch for. They sweep the place with their glasses. Sharpshooters hold their rifles ready. "Suppose the Mexicans should jump on you. What could forty of you do?" you ask a soldier. "See that wireless?" says the sharpshooter, pointing to the rigging on top of a car. "We could soon get help."

You go into the car and see the sharpshooters with a wireless kit spread out on a seat before them. All the way out from Vera Cruz, while the train was moving, they were talking with signal headquarters in Vera Cruz. Now they're doing the same thing. The moment a Mexican shot is fired, Vera Cruz would know it and, within 20 minutes a big train load of American soldiers would be on the spot. Soon the refugees near the train. You want to run out to meet and help them. "Stand back," shouts Richardson. "You can't go beyond that flag of truce." And so you watch the exhausted pilgrims finish the end of their hot long hike, but no matter how tired their faces are, you see their faces light up with smiles of delight as they step under the folds of the flag of truce—a Turkish bath towel.

WILL GIVE CABARET MINSTREL JUNE 25

Kappa Alpha Phi and Psi Iota Xi Are Practicing For Home Talent Event That Will be New.

FORTY INCLUDED IN CAST

Something new in the minstrel line will be introduced in this city, Thursday evening, June 25, when the Kappa Alpha Phi fraternity, assisted by the Psi Iota Xi sorority, will give a Cabaret minstrel show. The two local societies have been practicing hard for the last few weeks to make the minstrel a "Broadway Success."

Some of the best home talent artists will take part and a novel idea has been developed in staging it. Instead of having the old fashion semi-circle of black face make-ups, the show will be new and up-to-date. The interior is in a fashionable cafe or cabaret. The waiters are black face and will act as the end men. The floor walker takes the part of the interloper. Patrons of the cabaret come and go and amusement is afforded by the conversation and songs. The cabaret orchestra furnishes the music.

Forty are included in the cast. Popular choruses are introduced throughout the evening and many parodies are given on the popular ragtime. Miss Martha Marr Hogsett has charge of the musical numbers and Denning Havens the dramatic part.

The play was intended to be given July 2, but was changed to Thursday evening June 25, and will be given in the Coliseum in the city park.

Pay Telephone Toll

Don't overlook to pay your telephone toll before June 12 if you wish to avoid paying 15 cents extra for collection. No notice will be given by telephone. M. V. SPIVEY, 68t11. Secretary.

The treasurer's report for the month of May was read and ordered referred to the finance committee. The preliminary assessment role of the East Seventh street side-walk improvement was read for the first time. The total cost was $377.55. The question was left over until Thursday night.

It was decided that anyone wanting hose for flushing out a sewer should pay $5 and the work be done under the supervision of someone connected with the fire department. The city clerk and chief of the fire department were empowered to purchase one-half dozen pairs of boots for the fire department.

It was decided to request the Public Service commission to send an expert accountant here to see just what the water and light plant needs in the way of books to conform with the rules of the commission. It is believed that the city will save a great amount of money in new books by doing this.

An ordinance appropriating $646 was passed. The money appropriated was for the purpose of paying the balance of the "dead" claims against the city left by the Black administration.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

Mother: See these Vanta Baby Garments

(Recommended by Baby Welfare Experts and Nurses)

Let nothing prevent you from seeing these new idea, pinless, buttonless baby garments demonstrated in our infant's department. Blood poisoning comes from pin scratches. Bruises and even earaches are caused by hard buttons. Vanta Garments have a neat, handy little tape fastening, made of the famous Vanta Twistless Tape instead of dangerous pins and buttons. This new tape is different than any you ever saw. It's woven so it can't get hard or stringy, curl up or kink in the wash. The fastening is made a permanent part of the garment—guaranteed never to pull off. It's far easier—far quicker to handle than pins and buttons—and never gets lost or needs replacing. See Vanta Baby Garments with these new fastenings. See how they fasten in front—how you can dress baby without turning him and in quarter the time. They are being demonstrated today in our Infant's Department. Come and see them for baby's sake.

WASHINGTON IS USING PRESSURE

Administration Today Redoubles Efforts to Cause Constitutionalists to Accept Offer

HUERTA PLAN MAY HAVE WAY

But it Seems Improbable in Light of Statement from Carranza Head in Washington

(By United Press.)

Washington, June 3.—Administration officials redoubled their efforts to influence the Constitutionalists today to accept the proposal of the mediators. Re-establishment of peace in Mexico is up to Carranza. This was the position taken here. Huerta's agreement to retire paved the way, it is believed, to a solution acceptable to Carranza.

But in the light of the following statement issued last night by the Constitutionalists agency here when notified that the Mexican delegates at Niagara Falls had announced the willingness of General Huerta to resign once Mexico is politically pacified, it does not seem very probable.

"Anything coming from Huerta's side will not be taken into consideration. This is simply another trick on the part of Huerta," said Luis Cabera, who is regarded as the personal mouthpiece of Carranza in Washington. "The dictator is eager for any subterfuge which would delay his dethronement. The Constitutionalists will not deal with Huerta in any manner. One of the fundamental demands of the Constitutionalists in the expulsion of Huerta from the dictatorship, and with this object in view we are pursuing our victorious campaign."

Officials of the American government declined to comment upon the news. Secretary Bryan said the statement of the Huerta delegates was "very interesting," but would not discuss it further.

Ammunition for the Constitutionalists of Mexico left American shores from New York Tuesday, bound for Tampico.

Information that the steamer Antilla, which recently was fired upon by Constitutionalists outside Tampico, had left New York with munitions of war created considerable stir in Washington. The vessel was cleared without interference on the part of the United States, greatly to the surprise of Secretary of State Bryan and other department officials. Subsequently it was discovered that an order to prevent clearance of such vessels had been delayed, and that the Antilla had procured clearance while the Washington government believed steps effectually had been taken to prevent her sailing.

What may happen by the time the Antilla, sailing under the Cuban flag, reaches the Constitutionalist-controlled port at Tampico was the absorbing topic of interest in official quarters. Up to the present Tampico has been regarded as an open port.

The United States, however, has sought to maintain an embargo upon arms to Mexico across the border.

WE GIVE S. & H. GREEN TRADING STAMPS

Appropriate Habiliment FOR SUMMER

It's worthy, interesting, charming, our showing of beautiful waists and blouses—an exploitation of 1914 styles too pleasing to miss. In matters of taste first impressions are best. One "learns to like" things for style's sake, sometimes, but what one likes at sight usually proves a lasting satisfaction. Our blouses this season are winning high regard not only for semi-dress, but for afternoon or evening wear. To be appropriately and neatly clad, choose liberally from our large assortment of dainty and sheer wash waists or the more ornate silk, lace or chiffon blouses. As a soloist utterly fails without a good accompanist, so does a beautiful blouse fail to show its worth unless supplemented by a neatly tailored skirt. The pre-shrunk wash skirts, made in the Woolltex factory are receiving the attention that they merit. There are many models, and a wide range of materials and prices. Don't neglect seeing them at your first opportunity.

Auto Accessories

You might as well be without a spark plug, as to be without a suitable coat for protecting your clothes when auto driving. We are showing several styles, and cannot fail to interest you. A splendid assortment, too of auto hats, caps, helmets, veils and scarfs. Several of the tourists on their way through to the Speedway last week thought so well of our offering that they purchased the complete outfit. We can please you as well.
